Miss Weston

Dublin June 25. 1863

My dear Friend I ought ever to have written to you or Lucie ever since to me — but Miss Esther Kennedy sent me your last letter. I often thought of you & yours — but do not like to intrude on you unless I have something to say that is worth your notice.

You have doubtless heard of the Conway & Thomas correspondence. Miss Martineau took it up very warmly & had letters written in all directions to call forth a protest against Conways despotic conduct — which may have very unpleasant results to the whole-hearted who have been rashly compromised by him. I also wrote to Lumsden & the rest with a like intent — among the rest to J. Thompson & John Bright. J. T. sent me a long answer which I sent to Miss Martineau, & in which he tells me he rather exactly the same view of the matter as I do. John Bright makes light of the conduct of the meeting wholly to be done by the Irish Confederation in England, but he also makes light (which I do not) of the offer on the establishments in America. Considering the temper of the Government & the state of affairs there may be required under Consular authority to do as he has done it promptly disavowed.

I sent you a paper the day some hand in which you will see an article commenting severely upon Mr Seward — also a letter from him that I think he must with difficulty settle very unpleasant to me in making himself understood

I also enclose a card by Mrs Cobden whom I think you do not admire should I respect her highly for her talents, strength of character & also because she is the most gifted woman of them I have any knowledge.

Will you be so kind as to send the newspapers when read to
